

Saving Private Ryan: First and second impressions

25 June 1999

To the editor:

I just saw Saving Private Ryan at my friend's house last night and was deeply moved by the cinematography of the film.

I appreciate your view of the film and the depth of which you saw it because as I watched it, I was moved emotionally to the point that I was caught up in the intensity of it all.

Thank you for your comments and helping me to shift back to the idea about what is really going on with corporate America!

I am a travel agent, 43 years old with two teenagers. I hope he doesn't do a movie about Columbine.
