

Hypocrisy over racism in run up to British general election

Mike Ingram
23 April 2001

A large degree of hypocrisy in official politics is to be expected, and particularly in the run up to a general election, probably being held in June. In the current row over racism, however, the ruling Labour Party has outdone itself.

To contact the WSWs and the Socialist Equality Party visit:

wsws.org/contact