

Darwin resident explains impact of Northern Territory intervention

26 June 2008

June Mills, a worker for the Long Grass Association which provides care for homeless indigenous people in Darwin, spoke with the WSWS on the impact of the Northern Territory intervention.

This video is part of an extensive series of articles, interviews and video clips. The reports were published in seven parts between June 21 and August 25. Click for parts one, two, three, four, five, six, and seven. Four videos were published. Click for videos one, two, three and four.

To contact the WSWS and the Socialist Equality Party visit:

wsws.org/contact