

WSWS statement on Tunisia now available in Arabic

22 January 2011

The uprising in Tunisia represents a new stage in world political development. A new, international orientation for the working class in Tunisia and the Arab masses requires assimilating the most important political experiences of the 20th century, in particular the significance of the theory of permanent revolution. We are publishing here the Arabic translation of the WSWS editorial board statement, “The mass uprising in Tunisia and the perspective of permanent revolution” to encourage the broadest political debate on these issues. We encourage our readers and supporters to circulate this statement as widely as possible.
