

Video: The plight of migrant workers in Southern California

Our reporters
28 May 2014

The impoverished California towns of El Centro, Brawley, and Calexico are home to thousands of agricultural laborers—including a countless number of undocumented immigrants. Many Mexican workers make the commute across the international border on a daily basis, leaving hours before the sun rises. In this video, workers and residents speak about social conditions in the area.

To contact the WSWWS and the Socialist Equality Party visit:

wsws.org/contact