

25 years since the death of Jean Brust

25 November 2022

November 24 is the 25th anniversary of the death of Jean Brust (1921-1997), a founding member of the Workers League, the predecessor of the Socialist Equality Party in the United States, and a leading figure in the world Trotskyist movement. Jean died in 1997 after more than five decades building the international revolutionary movement of the working class. To mark the 100th anniversary of her birth last year, the World Socialist Web Site published an exhibit featuring essays on her life and political significance.
